

PRESIDENT MAY ACT TO ARM SHIPS

LEGAL ADVICE TO EFFECT THAT HIS POWER IS SUFFICIENT WITHOUT CONGRESSIONAL ACTION.

RESOLUTION BY LEWIS

Declares It Is Sense of Senate That President Has Right to Protect Commerce "By Virtue of Power of His Office."

Washington, March 8.—Indications accumulated today that President Wilson is likely to act at any time in the situation caused by Germany's announcement of ruthless submarine warfare. Although the president is kept in bed by a cold, it was said he is still considering the subject.

Lewis Spoke Resolution.—Senator Lewis, democratic whip, introduced a resolution today declaring it to be the sense of the senate that the president "by virtue of the power of his office" has a right to protect commerce to foreign nations equally with commerce between states.

The resolution is not considered to have effect except as a question of sentiment with the senate if it is adopted.

The resolution further declares the president's authority is not related to power to declare war, but is derived from his rights as head civil officer of the federal government to execute the laws fostering commerce.

In some administration quarters it was believed the president would not act to do this work, but other officials took the position he will wait until the senate has had an opportunity to revise its rules.

Has Sufficient Power.—Mr. Wilson has been advised he has sufficient power to arm American merchantmen without waiting for action by congress, and some officials believe he will act on this advice forthwith.

On the other hand, a strong sentiment undoubtedly exists in the administration for the president to take action along the line of calling an extra session of congress to take up the matter.

Reports given to the president agree the senate rules will be revised quickly so an extra session of congress is called, it will be possible to get prompt action on the armed neutrality resolution.

Inasmuch as there is a general agreement that an extra session is necessary some time before July 1, the failure of important appropriation bills during the past session, a disposition was apparent today among officials to advise Mr. Wilson to call an extra session at once and get it into session.

More than one hundred members from the house of representatives from the middle and far west still are in Washington awaiting announcement by the president whether he expects to call a session of congress soon. They fear that if they start for home they may be intercepted on the way by an extra session call and have to return immediately.

President Ill With Cold.—President Wilson, who is suffering from cold, has been unable to get out of bed since Monday, according to his physician. No engagements were made for the president today and he will rest as much as possible.

LLOYD-GEORGE MINISTERS POOLING THEIR SALARIES.—(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)—Following the precedent set by the Asquith government, the ministers in the Lloyd-George government are pooling their salaries. The salary of the prime minister is not affected by the arrangement. Ministers will draw from the "pool" about 3,000 pounds each per year, as compared with over 40, 000 pounds as the individual salary of cabinet ministers under Asquith. The smaller amount is due to the increased number of ministers owing to the creation of several new departments.

U. S. MAIL CARRYING SHIP, REFUSED GUNS, DARES NOT LEAVE NEW YORK

Steamship Philadelphia in drydock.

The American line steamship Philadelphia, which carries passengers and mails to Liverpool when Germany is willing, is tied up for an indefinite period in the port of New York and has gone into drydock for a "thorough overhauling." Had the senate passed the armed neutrality bill the Philadelphia would have been fitted out with defensive armament and resumed sailings.

GLOVER CONVICTED FOR LONG TERM FOR WHITEWATER MURDER

JURY AT ELKHORN FINDS HIM GUILTY OF MURDER IN THE SECOND DEGREE AFTER THREE DAY TRIAL.

JURY OUT 13 HOURS—Shot Two Laborers in Quarrel on Evening of January Eighth.—Charles Visco Died From Wounds.

Whitewater, March 8.—James Glover was found guilty of murder in the second degree by the jury at Elkhorn last night after being out thirteen hours and was given a sentence by Judge Belden of fourteen years at Waupun. The trial has been on since Monday and Glover put up a case of self-defense. At eleven o'clock Wednesday morning Judge Belden charged the jury to return a verdict of first or second degree murder, manslaughter or acquittal. The jury was out until twelve o'clock Wednesday night before they came to an agreement, returning a verdict of second degree murder.

The case was, that on the evening of January 8, James Glover had a quarrel with Tony Olenick and later went to the home with a gun. By hitting the door with a stone, Charles Visco and Nick Olenick rushed to the door and received a charge open fire shot in the face and neck. Both boys were taken to the hospital and later Visco was taken to Milwaukee for an operation in hopes of saving his life. After a hard fight of three weeks, Visco died from gun wounds on January 30.

At the trial Glover claimed that he had trouble with the three men and turned and shot. The gun has not been found on account of the thick ice and high water.

The jury which convicted Glover consisted of the following men: W. E. Magill, Elkhorn; J. F. Travis, Lyon; W. L. Coon, Walworth; W. H. Howe, Elkhorn; J. A. Edwards, Elkhorn; George Brewster, Troy; Lee Olenick, Olenick; E. Brigham, Darien; L. G. Grey, Darien; D. M. Bollinger, Sharpsburg; G. M. Filicoff, Walworth; and C. H. Warden, Walworth.

REPORT ON CAMPAIGN AT STRAITS

BRITISH COMMISSION REPORTS THAT PROJECT WAS UNDER- TAKEN ON CHURCHILL'S INITIATIVE.

FAVORED BY KITCHENER

War Secretary Endorsed the Expedition Which Caused War Council to Order it Without Further Question.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)—London, March 8.—The majority report of the commission appointed last July to investigate the Dardanelles campaign which was held up a fortnight by the decision to extricate certain sections referring to allied countries, was made public this morning in its revised form.

The commission reports the late Lord Kitchener, then war secretary, favored the project and when he gave a decision in the war council it was invariably accepted as final.

The dispatch of troops to the east was delayed three weeks, the report says, as the result of a decision of Lord Kitchener which was not completely accepted by the war council.

Then first Lord of the Admiralty Winston Spencer Churchill. The project was undertaken on the initiative of Colonel Churchill. The report summarizes the conclusion reached as follows:

For Defense of Egypt.—The question of attacking the Dardanelles, was on the initiative of Mr. Churchill, brought under consideration of the war council on November 25, 1914, as the ideal method of defending Egypt. It may reasonably be assumed that inasmuch as all the authorities concerned were in favor of the project, it was undertaken on a purely naval attack, but an attack if undertaken at all would have been the former rather than of the latter character.

The circumstances lead the modification of the program. A communication from Russian government on January 2, introduced a fresh element into the question. The British government considers that something must be done in response to it and in this connection, the question of attacking the Dardanelles was again raised.

The secretary of state for war, declared there were no troops immediately available for operations in the east, and his statement was accepted by the war council. It took only a few days to satisfy themselves by report of estimates as to what troops were available then, or in the near future. Had this been done, the commission thinks it would be reasonable to suppose that the war council would have decided on an earlier date than supposed, but this matter was not adequately investigated by the war council.

The question before the war council on January 13, was whether or not action of any kind should for the time being be undertaken, or whether action should be held for a later date. The decision was that action should be undertaken, or whether action should be taken by the fleet alone, the navy being held to be only the force available.

Advised Naval Attack.—Political arguments which were adduced to the war council in favor of a prompt and effective action if such were practicable were valid and the war council was of the opinion that the practicability of whatever action was proposed, was of equal importance.

Mr. Churchill appears to have advocated an attack by ships alone, and the war council was of the opinion that the Gallipoli Peninsula with Constantinople as the objective.

Favored by Kitchener.—The first sea lord and Sir Arthur Wilson, who was the only naval adviser present at the war council, expressed no dissent. Lord Kitchener, who occupied a commanding position at the time the decision was taken, was in favor of the project. Lord Kitchener and Sir Arthur Wilson would have preferred a joint naval and military attack but they did not express this to the war council and were not asked to express any opinion on the subject and offered no objection to naval operation as the considered them experimental and such as could be discontinued if the first results obtained were not satisfactory.

The commissioners think there was no obligation, first, on the first lord; secondly, on the prime minister; thirdly, on one other member of the war council to take the views of the naval advisers were clearly put before the council, and that the naval advisers should have expressed views to the council, whether asked or not, if they considered the project which the council was about to adopt, was impracticable from a naval point of view.

OPPOSE EXTENSION OF CIVIL SERVICE

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)—Washington, March 8.—Many democratic members of congress were angry today over the announced intention of the administration to extend the merit system to all postmasters of the first, second and third classes.

After April 1, by executive order of President Wilson. They declared the effect would be to place in office many republicans, and some said the purpose was to draw republican support for administration measures in the house whose political complexion is so uncertain.

NEW SENATE RULE TO LIMIT DEBATES EXPECTED TO PASS

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)—Washington, March 8.—Revision of the senate's rules, whereby filibusters such as that which resulted in the defeat of the armed neutrality bill, it was generally believed today, soon will become an accomplished fact.

This belief was based on the action of yesterday's caucus of democratic and republican senators in approving a rule under which debate may be limited by a two-thirds vote of the senate. A resolution embodying the proposed rule prepared by Majority Leader Martin, was ready to be laid before the senate today and will be passed after prompt action. The changes are that the new rule will be adopted by the senate without a prolonged struggle.

Asks Unanimous Consent.—Senator Martin, majority leader in asking unanimous consent, said he was doing so to have no delay in the full debate. Senator Lodge, ranking republican of foreign relations committee, said he hoped there would be no objection.

Although this rule might be a little more drastic, said Senator Pomeroy. It is my belief that the majority of the senate should be able to limit debate, as it is satisfied, however, with this change.

Senator Sherman, one of the two republicans who voted against the rule in the party caucus yesterday, read a portion of President Wilson's statement on the failure of the armed neutrality bill saying it would be useless to call a special session of congress now to pass that bill unless the senate rules were changed so a filibuster could not be successfully maintained against it.

Sherman Takes Exception.—The president's statement to convey to the country the impression that only by a change in the senate rules as the neutrality bill be passed at a special session of congress, "Theoretically, not practically," he said, "it may be said to appear true." Senator Sherman added, "A portion of the truth was deliberately omitted from the president's statement."

NO ATTEMPT TO DETAIN AMERICANS

MINISTER BRAND WHITLOCK INFORMS WASHINGTON THAT GERMANY PERMITS FREE MOVEMENTS OF U. S. CITIZENS.

FEW STAY IN BELGIUM

Relief Workers Alone Remain at Brussels.—Anxiety Felt for Yarrowdale Prisoners Whose Release Was Due Today.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)—Washington, March 8.—Americans in Belgium are no longer detained in any sense by authorities, according to announcement received at the state department today from Minister Brand Whitlock at Brussels.

Few Americans Remain.—The dispatch stated subordinate officials at Belgian headquarters had immediately after the severance in relations from lack of orders whether to hold them or not. The difficulty has been all straightened out and Americans are free to come and go as before the severance. Apart from the Belgian relief workers, very few other Americans are in Belgium. Mr. Whitlock's diplomatic status still remains indefinite.

Germany, after the break, refused to recognize Mr. Whitlock's diplomatic position as minister but authorized him, with other Americans to remain in charge of Belgian relief work. As practically all of Belgium is in military possession of Germany, and her officials have been moved to Havre, France, officials here see only two alternatives, to admit he is no longer clothed with diplomatic authority, or to send him out as a fully accredited minister to Belgium.

Anxiety Over U. S. Prisoners.—Word is anxiously awaited here as to the relief of seventy American soldiers taken as prisoners of war on three months ago as prisoners of war on the prize steamer Yarrowdale. Their release was promised by Germany yesterday, when a large number of British seamen confined with them was to have expired. No information has come to this department as to the number of men released, but in the case of the four American doctors previously released, the men were merely taken to the water front and put on a ferry for England. Only the British seamen were released. On their arrival in Denmark the men came under the authority of the consul whose flag their vessel flew. Arrangements will be made at once for every attention that can be given the men when their location becomes known.

Nothing has been received at the state department as to the four American consuls ordered from Germany to Turkey and held in Munich until Turkey has assured Germany of her willingness to receive them.

BIDS FOR WIRING
LOCAL FAIR PLANT
READY NEXT WEEK

When Park Association Secures Figures They Will Decide on Advan-
cability of Evening Openings.
The matter of night carnivals during the week of the big Janesville fair August 1-7, is still in abeyance and will not be definitely decided upon until next week, it is expected. The matter of fitting the grounds with proper illumination facilities, including a big cost. Bids on the wiring and lighting of the grounds and the buildings are returnable early next week, after which the board of directors will meet and decide as to whether or not the park association is financially able to have the work done.
Secretary Harry O. Nowlan made an announcement today which will bring up to the board of directors the matter of night carnivals. This is the first time that the board has received a check from the secretary of State Hall, the Janesville fair's state aid.
This is one of the first checks sent out from the secretary of state's office.
President Dr. W. A. Munn and Secretary Nowlan last night met with Superintendent H. H. August of the city schools, O. D. Antisdel, head of the rural schools, and F. J. Lowth, principal of the training school, and discussed the matter. This is the first year that the training school will have an exhibit. Plans are to rent the school building to contain the school exhibit and for the poultry will be switched to has not been decided upon, although the big area beneath the grandstand has been suggested.
The contracts for the merry-go-round and the ferris wheel have been let and the program rights have been sold.
Hugh G. Van Pelt of Waterloo, Ia., editor of Kimball's Dairyman, declared
the foremost American judge of dairy breed cattle, for the third successive year will judge the local dairy breed exhibits. Mr. Van Pelt's services as a judge are in great demand at all the state and inter-state fairs throughout the United States. He is well known locally. Exhibitors will greet with satisfaction the fair board's decision in giving back the man who has been a friend of every cattle exhibitor in his capacity as judge for the past three years.
A baby best contest has been decided upon for all boys and girls between the ages of ten and twenty years in the county. The Janesville fair is fortunate in being the only Rock county fair to award this feature. More information on this is promised later.

INTEREST GROWING IN RED CROSS WORK

Large Amount of Supplies Being Turned Out By Workers In Janesville Chapter.
The Red Cross work is proceeding rapidly along the lines planned for the local organization. Much work has been finished and other work prepared and made ready for the willing volunteers who turn to with such zeal when opportunity offers. Much interest has been manifested by out of town ladies,
several of these coming in to participate in the work for a short time, as occasion offers.
A letter was received recently enclosing three dollars for three memberships from Rock county women. A box has been installed on a table near the door for contributions, as dresses and nickies soon amount to larger sums and money is needed for supplies. Some unbleached muslin for sheets was donated this week, and many hands soon prepared it for hemming. Old tablecloths are being cut up and hemmed for wash cloths and handkerchiefs. Hot water bag covers are made from flannelette pieces too small for other uses.
Among other things that have been made in lesser or greater numbers are flannel bed socks, surgeons' aprons, shoulder wraps, surgical shirts, knitted sponges, slings and bandages of all kinds. Many are knitting the woolen bed socks and the white cotton sponges. And in this connection the ladies wish that all those who borrowed the wooden knitting needles would return them or pay the cost of five cents per pair entailed.
The first aid classes meeting this week have had a very good attendance, and most interesting lessons from Dr. Van Kirk.

Monroe. Meetings are held every three months, with the annual election of officers in September.
At the meeting held yesterday they had as their guest, Miss Mary C.
Wheeler of the Illinois Training School. This school gives the training for the nurses of the Cook County Hospital. She gave an address to the nurses on "The Nurse's Duties," and spoke chiefly of the high standards of professional service needed along this line of work. She said that three things were necessary to make a good nurse: sympathy, systematic imagination and sense of justice. She said that many personal elements entered into the high standards of nursing,
some of these being systematic habits,
co-operation with others' wishes, mental ability, aptitude, sunny personality and other things. A nurse should most carefully choose the things necessary
to her physical welfare—food, clothing, shelter, occupation, rest and company—that her best efforts be conserved.
She spoke of the good the national organizations are doing in standardizing the work, and hoping that a high ideal of work be ever borne in mind that it will help those coming after
to attain better things.
Miss Wheeler goes to Madison tonight to make a visit to a state hospital for the insane at Mendota.

WHO'S AFRAID OF A BULLDOG NOW?

Their Untimely End Brings a Lump in the Throat of the "Y" Volley Ball League.
Awa, awa, Gone is the glory of the once proud Bulldogs. Trampled under the marauding feet of the grisly Bloodhounds, the haughty leaders are now no more. This is the story of the Bulldogs, the followers of Jensen snatched from the meticulous hands of the broken-hearted Bulldogs. Perish
the thought. Dispirited, vanquished, inglorious, that once valiant band passed out of the realm of foes and into the Great Discard. Their lives blighted, their futures dubious. While waiting for the resurrection of these new contenders for the championship of the "Y" Volley Ball League, spring up, unknown, inestimable, arrogant,
and flushed with the novelty of success.
And while these combats on the western front were remodeling the dispositions of a goodly part of the power and dignity of Janesville, there was an ever fiercer clash of steel against steel among the barbarous hordes of King's Wildcatters and Tallman's Terriers. Needy and needing the game piece. First one leading and then by prodigious efforts the others taking first place.
By the latter part of the final game of the three game series, the opposing teams were working into a condition of uncontrollable fury, of primal lust for blood, frantic with suspense the tension had reached a peak, and when the day was saved for the Wildcatters by an unlooked for and alleged unprecedented score by their Mr. Date.
The match was theirs.
And this is what will keep them
training for next week's combat:
Wildcats, King, Capt. 7
Bulldogs, Lovejoy, Capt. 8
Terriers, Tallman, Capt. 7
Bloodhounds, Jensen, Capt. 8

HOLDS SUCCESSFUL
BABY BEEF SHOWS

Walter L. Houser of Mendota Conducts Popular Institutes at Fulton and Avalon.
Now is the time for the farmers of the county to take up the production of baby beef. Walter L. Houser told over two hundred farmers assembled at Avalon today for the baby beef institute conducted in that place by the co-operative effort of various local and state breeders' organizations. "The old style of beef production, as it was done on the western plains is passing," said Mr. Houser. "Here as in every line of farming the production is becoming more intensive. The price of beef and feed demands it.
We must produce quicker and with a little expense as possible. And it is for that reason the baby beef is a profitable production. It is ready for market quickly and does away with the expense of fattening. It solves
the problem of the farmer, the problem of the cost of a dairy herd. By breeding a dairy cow, even an old Jersey as was done out here at Fulton, we have a pure beef sire, fine baby beef produced. Milking is done away with, the labor necessary to the conduct of a dairy herd can be dispensed without of course, farmers are skeptical."
They are every place; baby beef is something new, and people want to know about it. But there is a tremendous field for it right here in Rock county.
Mr. Houser, who is a practical stockman at Mendota, was the lecturer at both the institute in Avalon today and at Fulton on last Tuesday.
He delivered talks on various phases of production and answers the thousands of questions that the interested farmers ask. As a forceful demonstration of the profit in baby beef,
are shown, and their pedigree explained.
The interest aroused by the two institutes has been exceptionally great, and it is predicted that with the help of the breeders' associations Rock county farmers will not be long in taking a position of pre-eminence
in the production of baby beef.

U. S. BOY SCOUT PATROL
WILL NOT BE ABANDONED

There is no intention of abandoning any of the Boy Scout patrols of the B. church troop, according to information from the scout leaders of Troop No. 3. The organization of a troop at the Baptist church will not interfere with the Fox patrol or any of the other patrols, although several of the members of Troop No. 3,
who belong to the Baptist church,
have transferred their membership to the new troop.

TRIBE OF BEN HUR
HOLDS CELEBRATION
ON FOUNDING DAY

Lecture, Addresses and Local Talent
Program Mark Anniversary Observance Wednesday Evening.
A splendid program which reflects
great credit on the progressive methods of Ben Hur Court No. 1 was given in Janesville on last evening at West Side Odd Fellows hall. The occasion was to celebrate the anniversary of the foundation of the order, twenty-two years ago in Crawfordsville, Indiana. Crawfordsville is famous as being the home of Gen. Lew Wallace and also of the poet, James Whitcomb Riley.
The guest of honor last evening at this anniversary meeting was Harry B. Michael who gave a wonderful interesting lecture on the origin of the tribe of Ben Hur, the man who founded it and who now carried on the work.
Numerous pictures were given of the tribe of Ben Hur, the man who founded it and who now carried on the work.
The lecture was given in Crawfordsville and of many of the men now holding office. A resume of some of the history of the organization showed that it was founded twenty-two years ago and now was represented by camp in thirty-eight states with over one hundred thousand members.
The lecturer concluded his address by giving in most interesting and dramatic manner the story of Ben Hur
as narrated by Wallace in his book.
He spoke of the novel as being one of the most popular ever written and translated into every language and read in every tongue. The lecture was fully illustrated by interesting pictures and the story of the chariot race which is a wonderful example of vivid writing, was given by the lecturer.
He then showed how the life story of Ben Hur, made the ground plan of the order. His kindness and love to the poor men and his devotion to his mother and sister represented the qualities of Truth, Benevolence and Love which were cardinal features in his life. The story of Ben Hur, which led the great wise men of the east was represented by the seven pointed star of the order.
Henry McGinnis state manager of the tribe of Ben Hur was also present and gave an informal talk along the line of the local organization, which he hoped to see increased from the one hundred members at present to one thousand. Mayor Fathers also gave a few remarks on the "Value of Fraternities." He spoke of the "Fellowship of God and the Brotherhood of Man," as being the very foundation of the fraternal spirit, and that it was the little kindnesses of every day life that counted and not the big things of existence. He closed by saying the sentiment that "service brings content."
A varied and interesting program of local talent was also given, which was announced by the local worthy chief, W. L. Douglas.
Piano solo—Ben Hur Chariot Race.
Miss Shaw.
Phonograph solo—Lincoln Grand March,
March Brown, of Belmont.
Vocal solo—Neptune, Stanley Hor-
wood.
Vocal solo—"I Hear You Calling Me," Alfred Olsen.
Reading—"What If the Master Came," Mrs. Elizabeth Buten, Milton.
Duet—"Grandmother's Love Letters," Dr. Clark, Miss Zephia Madison, of Fulton.
Cast—"My Down East."
Cast—Mr. Pike, Dr. Clark; Susanna,
his wife, Zephia; Maas; Algernon,
Chas. Hoag; Arabella, Judith Matthews; Mary Haxel Frey.
The party in the play were very well taken and the effect was clever and amusing. The program for the entire evening's entertainment was of great merit and reflected the painstaking care of the committee having the matter in charge. The evening's program was followed by dancing, which was indulged in until a late hour.

PRINCE OF WALES

The annual waste in the United States of foods available for cattle has been estimated at $100,000,000 by department of agriculture experts.

The Prince of Wales, who was promoted to a captaincy last October, is said to have been under fire in the trenches, and has twice been mentioned in dispatches. Sir John French "mentioned" him for zeal and thoroughness in the performance of duty, and Sir Douglas Haig has "mentioned" him more recently "for gallant and distinguished conduct in the field."

"This story," he said to his assistant,

"No, sir," replied the assistant. "It's
by Tom Hix of Grassville. Shall I re-

"Not on your life," said the man be-

CHILDREN GOT DRUNK AT CHICAGO DANCES

(Special to this Gazette.)
Chicago, March 7.—The Juvenile Protective association of Chicago is authorizing a bill in the legislature, prohibiting the sale of liquor in dance halls, and providing a $200 penalty for violation.
The majority of the dance halls are operated primarily for the sale of liquor, and in many cases are actually owned or controlled by liquor interests, the association's committee report shows. The police have a conception of their duty at these halls; many policemen are found drinking; fights are common; indecent dancing prevails after about 11 o'clock, although the police are usually orderly; minors, and often, small children are permitted to become intoxicated, while parents laugh at their drunken antics.
At one dance, given by a church, as a benefit affair, many little children were found "outrageously drunk," according to Mrs. Bowen's report, and intoxicated women threatened to mob a policeman who closed the dancing. The being operated there.
Men and women become intoxicated," says the report, "and dance indecently such dances as 'Walking the Dog' and 'The Puppy' are being the Shimmy." The Stationary Wiggle and The Dip.
At two hundred and five of the two hundred and thirteen halls in the city, liquor was sold, and at one hundred and ninety-three of these minors were present."

ENGLISH LAST WOOD NOW; LEATHER SCARCE

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
London, March 8.—England, faced with an acute leather shortage, is adopting wooden shoes, commonly known in the Netherlands as clogs. This situation, which before the war would have been hooted by John Bull, today is faced calmly. Measures have been taken looking toward the development of the already established business of making clogs.
To quote the Textile Mercury of Manchester on the subject:
"Hundreds of London school children are now wearing clogs, which cost about 3 shillings a pair (75 cents). And London County Council school teachers have been providing clogs for ill-shod pupils, who have been paying for the clogs by weekly installments of 6 pence."
The price of leather, states a writer in the paper mentioned, suggests that the business man of the future will clatter to business in his clogs. "For country wear one can buy an elegant pair of lace-up clogs at a quarter the price of equally efficient boots." Apart from the fact that the clogs are not to be worn in town, there is nothing undignified in the clog worn by the Lancashire or Yorkshire develop worker. The present home demand is so great that an order for 100,000 pairs of clogs for the Belgian government has just had to be declined by a British clog-making firm.

Everyday Wisdom
By DON HEROLD
I WAS AT HIS HOUSE
ONE TIME, HE'S NOT MUCH.
FAMOUS MEN.
Famous men are men about whom we know little or nothing. What do we know about the home life of Paul Revere? We know about his dexterity as a bareback rider and lantern waver, but what do we know about his disposition at the breakfast table? And maybe Paul Revere was more ambitious to be a jovial spirit in his home (if he had any) than he was to be a good bareback rider.
If we know much about anybody, he isn't a hero. That's why prophets have to leave their home towns. If we see a great musician eating fried eggs, he loses his glamor. If we know anything at all specific about a great man, it is better if there is some doubt about it—as to whether or not he really drinks like a fish, for instance. It is the same with places as it is with people—Coney Island is all right until you go there.
So, a fine point about fame, if you want to be famous, is not to let anybody see you in your shirt sleeves (unless you are a shirt sleeve genius—then a photograph is better than a personal view.) The public wants its heroes to keep their distance. It wants its famous not to get familiar. It thinks it wants to know all about them but it doesn't. It doesn't want to know very much.
LESS CHANCE FOR DEATH

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
London, March 8.—"Reckoning deaths, it is more dangerous in Great Britain to be a baby at home than it is to be an infantryman serving a year in France," according to a report on vital statistics. And this is how he proves it: "Of one hundred possible births ten are lost in advance. Of the remaining ninety, each of which fills a cradle, fifteen are dead by the end of the first year. In other words out of one hundred children who ought to be celebrating their first birthday at this present date, twenty-five have left us, prematurely or in earliest infancy."

WEATHER FORECAST.

Unsettled and somewhat colder tonight. Probably snow flurries in extreme north portion Friday night; diminishing westerly winds.

REALLY SURPRISING.

The wave of criticism of the twelve United States senators who blocked the passage of the Armed Ship measure in the closing hours of the last congress, is really surprising. No condemnation of the action of these men, particularly of La Follette, is found in all parts of the country. One writer intimates that Christ was betrayed for thirty pieces of silver. Another that Benedict Arnold received a colonel's commission in the British army for his treachery, and on top of it all comes the news that in the German press La Follette is found in the editorial comment of writers in all parts of the country. One writer intimates that Christ was betrayed for thirty pieces of silver. Another that Benedict Arnold received a colonel's commission in the British army for his treachery, and on top of it all comes the news that in the German press La Follette is found in the editorial comment of writers in all parts of the country. SPRING CLEANING.

While it is a bit early to start talk of spring cleaning, still with the snow fast disappearing the refuse of the winter accumulation becomes more noticeable and it seems that the removal of all waste matter from yards and gutters before it is time for the fly to arrive and nest in the garbage that has thus far proven innocuous during the cold months, but upon the approach of spring and warm weather will be a community. While the ground is frozen would be a good time to get the bulk of the ashes out of the way so as not to ruin the lawns by heavy teams driving over them. The rest can come later, but should be considered in advance for the spring work.

RIGHT OF ARMAMENT.

An exchange says that "R. in the wisdom of the government, the way to meet the submarine peril is by arming merchant vessels, why should the merchant right to do so be questioned? Self-defense is a primal instinct, recognized by all human laws. On the same principle international law which does not permit a merchant vessel to attack a naval vessel, would permit it to resist an attack. Once permitted it may make counter attacks and destroy the naval vessel if possible."

"The federal statute ought not to be perverted into a restriction of this right. Its purpose was to protect commercial vessels against privateers, not being a public armed vessel of some nation at amity with the United States. But it does not take away the right of self-defense from merchant vessels which, if successful, mean the destruction of the vessel with its passengers and crew."

"Neither can it be said that a nation that preys upon our commerce is at amity with the United States. No man is at amity with another if he assaults him at every opportunity, burns his buildings, kills his children, commits mayhem on his person, and attempts to murder him. Neither by any process of reasoning could the private states of North Africa of one hundred years ago be said to be at amity with the United States," although there was no declaration of war between us and them."

"Early in 1915 Germany began attacking commercial vessels of the United States by armed cruisers, submarines and airplanes. She has sunk American vessels time and again, and taken American lives without compunction. She has done the same with the vessels and subjects of other neutral nations. January 31, 1917, she notified this government, as well as others, that her submarines would sink without warning any vessel within a certain area without regard to its flag."

"After submarines have been placed within that area and are now carrying out the threat to sink, indiscriminately. About 270 vessels have been sunk already. 'Whoever crosses this line perishes,' is the semi-official declaration. American lives have been taken, and American lives and property are now threatened with destruction. In view of the view of this country, the placing of the submarines in the barred zone, and the destruction already accomplished, it is an irresistible conclusion that every vessel coming within range will be sunk. There does not the instinct of self-defense give a vessel the right to fire upon every submarine it sights?"

"Any other interpretation would be tantamount to saying to a commercial vessel, 'You must not fire upon a German submarine; if you do, you can execute you as a pirate. Make no resistance whatever, and they will only sink and destroy you.'"

PUT HIM TO WORK.

In these days when help is so scarce, everyone should go to work. When any strain in our population is non-productive, something is wrong. These remarks were suggested by reading an address by Gen. R. H. Pratt, for twenty-five years head of the Carlisle school for Indians. Gen. Pratt condemns the United States policy of holding the Indians on reservations and consequently pauperizing them.

"This speaker presented figures showing earnings of 25,000 Indians averaging less than $4.00 a month. Thousands of them were fiddling away on little crafts like basket and bead making. Meanwhile the farms are crying aloud for workers."

The Red Man has a reputation of indolence. Many employers would say they would not have a man with Indian blood around the place. Yet many thousands of them are doing well as stock raisers, which is not an idle and easy occupation.

One of the principal reasons for high cost foods is the scarcity of workers and the high cost of farm help. The Indian population is not large. But if all these semi-idle Indians of whom Gen. Pratt speaks could have been trained for real work, it would have helped labor shortage in several states.

The Indian was trained to endure sharp pain without flinching. A creature who can bear suffering ought to be able to work, and could if he were trained to it. Furthermore, the Indian race was never enslaved or reduced to servitude. That indicated a certain resolve and iron quality in the blood. It is no wonder, then, the Indian would not work when so many times he was simply kept on a reservation and fed on government rations. The idleness was physically enfeebling, and was one reason why the race has not held its own in population. The many Indians who already have learned to live normal working lives will no doubt show themselves able to increase and multiply and furnish their share of industrious labor.

ALIENS AND THE VOTE.

The attitude of the United States toward children and aliens, and their relations to citizenship presents a strange contrast. "We spend money by the million to educate children, for the protection of republican institutions. We all understand perfectly that a democratic government is not practicable unless popular intelligence exists. Meanwhile millions of aliens have come in, and in most states have acquired the right to vote even though a very large part of them can't read. And but little is done to make them literate. If it is necessary to educate children for citizenship why not aliens also?"

Of course night schools are kept in many places. As a rule they do not accomplish a great deal. The majority of illiterates are not within reach of them at all. There will never be a good government while any considerable element is unable to read the ballot, also the newspapers so as to become intelligent in public matters.

THE HOME MERCHANT.

The home store is one of the conveniences and public services of the town. A place may have good stores, schools, and lights, yet if its citizens are behind the game, the whole community suffers. The public is inconvenienced and put to serious expense to supply itself with necessities. There are some people who always patronize distant stores for all important purchases. But in an emergency, they run to the home store with some trifling order. Then they blame the merchant if he does not have a complete stock as a metropolitan store would carry.

Such people are not doing their share to build up their home community. They are pursuing a policy which if adopted by everyone would affect evaluation of all real estate and impair the facilities for good community living. The merchant can do his share toward making it an up-to-date town, only by the spirit of loyal support from his townspeople.

One reason for the high cost of food is the national custom of protesting the pigs, through the garbage pail, a lot of stuff that in other countries would be considered nourishing and appetizing.

According to the latest revelations, it seems to be all fixed up that the United States is to be annexed to Mexico.

Anyway no overt acts have been committed by the politicians tip toeing around in their gushes.

After reading the market reports the landlady remarks that potatoes never were healthful and nourishing anyway.

The food speculators have unfortunately forgotten that other years are coming in which friendship is quite a help in selling goods.

The danger of looking under the bed at night is not so much that you may find some foreign spy as that you will see considerable dirt left by Mary Ann.

The man who takes off his hat the instant the Star Spangled Banner is played is not necessarily the first to enlist when war comes.

Night sessions of congress, and a snore from any member is considered an affirmative vote.

The Daily Novelette

ONE ON THE G. D.

"H'm," said Sheerluck Bones the great detective. "And you say you miss only women's shoes, and only women's shoes of the extraordinarily small size of 14 A A A."

"Precisely," replied Egbert of the firm of Wiff and Waff. And he repeated "Precisely," for he was a precise speaker.

"Then," said the great detective quickly, "the thief must be a thiefess, and the thiefess must have an unusually small foot."

"Marvelous—er—precisely," said Egbert Wiff.

"I have a plan," announced the great detective, after he had earned his forehead in thought against section G, size 9, children's shoes. And that afternoon each newspaper carried the following advertisement: "Wanted—female to play Cinderella. Must wear a 14 A A shoe. Apply northwest corner Baker street."

The great detective was still cooking his evening repast of mystery beans over the fire when there came a knock at his door. He flung it open and saw that his visitor was young and fair.

"Is Cinderella still empty?" she inquired. The great detective bade her seated, and deftly removed her right shoe. "Hail! It was a No. 14 A A A. Hail! It was a Wiff and Waff shoe!"

"You are under arrest," said the great detective. "This shoe was stolen from Wiff and Waff's."

"You housebug!" cried the applicant in the slang of the day. "I bought these shoes this morning, and here is the receipt."

"I never thought of that," said the great detective, and his crest fell crestfallen as his visitor departed without even bothering to put her shoe on again.

TRY THIS
When habits bore and customs pull
And everything seems dull and Jaded.
When there's a sadness over all,
And all the joy of life is faded;
When you are not exactly blue,
But simply glum and whiffy-nilly,
Here is a helpful thing to do:
Just be real silly!

If Dignity's your greatest charm,
And if to lose the same you'd rue it
If you consider grins a harm
And laughs a crime, why then—don't do it!
But laughs and grins are hardly crimes,
And when you're feeling dull and
mushy,
You'll find a benefit at times,
In being foolish.

Forever sober, stern and stiff,
It isn't right, it isn't reason,
Your life will be the brighter if You'll act the motley for a season.
Though moods may come and moods
may go,
And though your path at times is lilly,
You have a solace if you know
How to be silly.

When all has been said,
When all has been spoke,
The fatter the head,
The thinner the joke.

Grouchiness is often just the thing
you need, if you have been feeling too bright and happy and have been a burden to your associates with all your cheer and gaiety you will find an afternoon of grouchiness is the thing for you. Few of us realize the importance of being early and cross

at proper times. It is an excellent idea to set aside one day of the week
at least whereon to be grouchy.
Make it a point to hate everybody
and snarl and snarl at old and young.
Through the rest of the week be happy and cheerful if you must, but on one day at least be a gloom. Try and pick a fight with someone a bit larger. If possible arrange to have him poke you on the nose. Devote a few moments of each day to dismal thoughts. It is of course at first no easy matter to overcome our natural cheerfulness. But the culture of grouchiness will do much to rid us of it.

RURAL HEALTH PROBLEMS

SANITATION ON THE FARM.

By PROF. P. G. HOLDEN.

A simple sanitary system is a most important and necessary feature for every farm home. Without it the health of the family is in danger, however attractive and well arranged the farmhouse may be in every other respect. It is a matter that should not be postponed, to a time when other matters do not press for attention, but should be considered the moment it is needed. The United States Department of Agriculture has issued a bulletin giving a nor skill to install the simple system suggested, a farmer has neither a pump expert, or a sanitary engineer should be employed to install a system along similar lines.

How the Well Becomes Polluted.

The simple sanitary system recommended has four distinct features. It provides for:

1. A pure water supply.
2. Pumping, storage and distribution of water supply.
3. A durable and simple plumbing system.
4. A safe disposal for farm sewage.

The above features are described in detail in the new forty-six-page bulletin, which contains thirty-eight figures and diagrams with a number of tables.

Rural Death Rate High.

The rural districts have failed to realize the importance of sanitation, and consequently the rural death rate from typhoid fever, malaria, diarrhea, etc., is greatly in excess of that of city districts.

Since outside air in the country is pure, it is assumed that air in country bedrooms and country schoolhouses must be pure.

Since the well has furnished pure water for generations, it is assumed that it will continue to do so.

The unsanitary privy has been in use so long that those used to it overlook its obvious dangers.

The city health officer protects the drinking water of every resident of the city. The city sewer carries the waste of each family to a common disposal plant or outlet. Hospital care or rigid quarantine of communicable diseases is enforced by law in the city, and the greater its natural disadvantages as a dwelling place, the greater is the activity of its health officers.

Every farm should have a septic tank.

It's up to the leaders in Wisconsin swine breeding to be prepared against this devastating disease. Hundreds of these up-to-date hog raisers will attend the special Swine week at Madison in February. The new "state munition plant," erected for the preparedness campaign against hog cholera, will then be open to inspection. The plant has a capacity of 2,000,000 cubic centimeters of hog cholera serum per year.

KITCHEN KOMFORT KINKS

Best Cure for Backache

The Kitchen Table Before and After Fixing.

Four blocks of wood don't cost much—do they? Housewives will find that blocks under the legs of a kitchen worktable which is too low will help a great deal as a tonic for backache. Experts in kitchen efficiency state that one of the most noticeable defects to farm kitchens is the height of the worktable, which is usually too low for the housewife to keep her body in an erect, healthy and comfortable position when using it. For the average table, these "medicinal" blocks should be about four inches long and four inches wide, so that there will not be much danger of the legs slipping off. Bricks may be substituted for blocks if satisfactory results are obtained from their use and if they are more convenient. The thickness of the blocks should be regulated according to the height of the person making the most use of the table. The average table, experienced housekeepers say, should be on a level with the hips of the person using it. This advice is also worth remembering in planning to place a new range or a kitchen sink.

AVOID TROUBLE BY PASTEURIZING WHEY

More Wisconsin cheese factories should pasteurize whey before returning to patrons. These reasons for the adoption of this system of sanitation and business economy have been set forth by L. Sannits of the dairy department of the University of Wisconsin: "It checks the spread of live stock disease, transmitted from farm to farm in whey cans. Patrons prefer the warm, sweet whey in place of the cold, sour product. Animals like it better and maintain better health by its use as food. "Pasteurization of whey improves the quality of the cheese, because tanks, cans and milk do not become infected with the impurities of pre-reduced days. (One Swiss cheese factory in the state which was on the point of closing down in July because of 'bloated' cheese, installed a system of pasteurization of whey, which stopped the trouble at once.) "Foul odors around the whey tank, so persistent and annoying in many factories, are often greatly reduced by pasteurizing the whey. "The cost involved is small. A few feet of galvanized iron pipe and a steam valve, plus a small quantity of coal each month will do the work." Minnesota already has a law providing for the pasteurization of whey. And Ontario, Canada, has adopted a similar one to go into effect April. Why not Wisconsin? Farmers as well as dairy manufacturers are becoming interested in the plan. "Feathers for Yearling Hens. The yearling hens which are now shedding their feathers will get on their new coats and be ready to lay when eggs are highest if they are given proper feed and care.

Sickroom Use of Old Clock.

A journal devoted to therapeutics makes the following suggestion about the use of old clocks: If a clock is beyond repair do not throw it away. An excellent idea is to set it aside to be used in case of illness. It will be found just the thing to place in the sickroom to indicate the next time for taking medicine. As each dose is given to the patient turn the hands to the hour when the following dose is to be given. In this way all danger of error is eliminated.

BOWLING TOURNEY OPENS ON MONDAY; WEEK'S SCHEDULE

First National Bank Five and El Markos Will Roll First Games—
Rockford Teams Friday.

The southern Wisconsin and northern Illinois bowling tournament under the auspices of the Janesville Bowling association will open Monday and thus far there are about twenty-five teams entered in the meet. Entries will close Monday at midnight.

More teams are to enter Secretary Ed Baumann has been assured. The delay in entering is the result of a general holding of certain teams who wished for Sunday dates. City officials this week for it definitely known that they would not sanction the opening of the local alleys on the Sunday in the period of the meet.

The First National Bank five and the Markos will roll first Monday night at 7:15.

Tuesday the Cole and Cole Alley fives of Fort Atkinson will occupy the alleys. A couple more Fort Atkinson teams are expected to enter now that it is definitely known that there are no Sabbath dates possible.

Wednesday the Van Cotte will be on the course. Thursday the third of the Janesville teams will roll. This day is the Star Modaks.

Friday sees the crack Pave-Lewis bunch of Rockford and the classy Art Landfahs of the same place here. The Rockford fives are planning to come up at noon and will spend the entire afternoon and evening here.

The schedule given above, which was released by Secretary Baumann today, will no doubt be enlarged upon for the first of the week of the tourney. It was said today. The schedule for the next week has not been completed as all entries are not in yet.

JIM CALLAHAN GETS HIS TEST THIS YEAR

Pittsburgh, March 8.—Jimmy Callahan, former manager of the White Sox, goes into the National League race this year for the supreme test of his career as a manager of major league baseball club.

At the helm of the Pirates, with a brand new baseball club of his own selection, he must live or die by his own efforts as a structural pilot. There is scarcely a member of the team who did not know that he was when he made good his threat to become a manager.

It isn't even certain that Hans Wagner will be present to hold down first base. If that is the case then Callahan will have to figure all over again for a guardian at that station.

For Wheeler Johnson has departed for the minors. At second base he seems to have dug up a real star in young Partner.

Shortstop promises to give Callahan some worry, for he has dispensed with young Jimmy Smith and Wagner, doubling up on the position.

He still has an excellent infielder in Douglas Baird and this youth may be converted into a shortstop.

Wagner seems to have clinched a job at third base. Baird, one of the flashiest youngsters who has visited the National League for many a day, originally converted at this corner, but he was superseded by Wagner.

The outfield doubtless will be composed of Hinchman, Carey and Bigbee, of whom the latter has shown promise of living up to the wonderful advance notices sent out for him. He is a hitter of class, a smart base runner, and is a fast, sure fielder. He will make a great running mate for Carey.

Callahan's pitching staff, something Callahan always has been able to have around, shows loss of class, with Munawar ready to uphold the heaviest burden. Plenty of youngsters will be given through trials at the Hot Springs training ground. Jacobs has shown class, as has Evans. And there is Cooper to help out.

Wagner probably will be first string catcher. Callahan's chances look much better than a year ago.

CHURCH FIVES FIGHT FOR DIVISION HONOR IN BATTLES TONIGHT

Two Ties in First Section Will Settle Disputes—Baptists Runners-up in Second Division.

FIRST DIVISION.
	W.	L.	Pct.
St. Mary's	1	0	.000
St. Patrick's	1	0	.000
Congregational	1	0	.000
Presbyterian	1	0	.000

SECOND DIVISION.
	W.	L.	Pct.
Methodists	3	0	1.000
Baptists	2	1	.666
English Lutheran	1	2	.333
Norwegian Lutheran	0	3	.000

The Church League basketball teams are entangled in an intricate mesh and from present indications there are still some real battles to be fought between the eight teams before any honors awarded.

This year eight teams have competed, each playing three games thus far. To facilitate a better handling of the quints and to make the organization hold more interest for each team and each individual player, the league was divided into two divisions of four fives each.

At the present time the Methodists have made a clean sweep of their division and are resting secure at the top of the heap with three straight victories. The Baptists are in second position with two wins and one loss, and the English Lutherans in the third berth with one win and two lost. The Norwegian Lutherans failed to take a contest.

In the first division the St. Patrick's team, 1916 league champions, are tied with the St. Mary's quintet for first position with a record of two games won and one lost. Fully as much complicated as is the division leadership is the deadlock between the Congregationalists and the Presbyterians, who are tied for third place with one game won and two lost, each.

The first division ties were scheduled to be played this afternoon at the high school gym. At four o'clock the Congregationalists and the Presbyterians were to clash in the battle which would decide which team would occupy third place in the first division. At five o'clock the matter of division leadership was to be fought out by the two Catholic fives.

The league directors have decreed that the losers of the Congregational-

Presbyterian game are to clash Friday with the losers of the St. Patrick-St. Mary's tilt, to determine which team would occupy second place. Teams in fourth place of each division will also clash tomorrow night.

The final championship is to be decided a week from tomorrow night as the curtain raiser for the Janesville S. Edgarston H. S. game. On the following Friday, March 24, division teams in second, third and fourth places will battle for these berths in the final standing.

START A CAMPAIGN TO SECURE BETTER LIGHTING IN FACTORIES AND SHOPS

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, March 8.—The industrial commission has inaugurated an educational campaign to secure better lighting in factories and workshops.

John A. Hoeveler, recently with the X-Ray Reflector company of Chicago, is the deputy in charge of this work.

There is at present great interest throughout the state, and in fact throughout the country, in better shop lighting. This is due to the great increase in night work incident to prosperity. This increased night work has meant increased accidents and sickness. This is to be attributed to bad artificial lighting. Most factories have insufficient light for night work and again their lights are usually placed where they do little good.

Some few factories are now well lighted, and the industrial commission hopes to make Wisconsin a leader in this movement. Mr. Hoeveler will visit factories throughout the state to interest manufacturers in better shop lighting. In addition the commission will issue a bulletin on the subject which will be distributed generally among manufacturers. It will also revise its orders upon shop lighting in co-operation with a committee representative of the employers and employees of the state.

MORRIS MILLER

Fifty-five trotters have made records of 2:05 or better, that company comprising the distinguished order of harness horses. There are twenty-two mares in the list and nineteen stallions, but the chief of all is a gelding, Uhlan (1:53), the fastest stallion being Lee Axworthy (1:53), and the fastest mare Lou Dillon (1:53).

The most distinguished two-year-old in the list—and the only one—is The Real Lady (2:04). Three three-year-olds are present in Peter Volo (2:03½), Volga (2:04½) and Colorado E. (2:04½). The four-year-olds include Peter Volo (2:02), Lee Axworthy (2:03½ at that age), Elawah (2:03½ at four) and Joan (2:04½ in her fourth year). Three champion trotting stallions at different stages of the sport are here in Lee Axworthy, The Harvester (2:01) and Crescens (2:02).

Previous to the advent of the last-named horse the stallion championship was held by Directum, whose record was 2:05½, just outside the exclusive circle.

The well-known absorber of jolts, jabs and hooks has been in the hands of skilled surgeons and facial specialists for almost a year and it is said they have made more alterations in his map than the great war will in the map of Europe. It is even said that Jim Corbett, the handsome son of swat, must look to his laurels when the new Adonis of the ring again steps forth in the public eye. Now the secret is out, for Bat is again going to basic in the broad light of publicity—not as an actor or an exponent of the gentler arts, but as a champion in the act of a "come-back."

Can you beat it? After spending months of torture and tons of gold in an effort to obliterate the objectionable badges of his business, Nelson proposes to re-enter the ring and gather a fresh lot of tin ears and divers other facial decorations.

Matchmaker Sofia of St. Louis is out with the announcement that he has clinched a match between Pierce Matthews and Nelson for St. Patrick's day. Now we know nothing about this Matthews person, but we take it that he has two arms and a couple of fists, and therefore is sure to undo all the work accomplished by the face carpenters.

Since Manager Fielder Jones has failed in his effort to get Fritz Maisel from the Yankees to play third base for the St. Louis Browns, he probably will try out Gene Paullette at the position which has been held down so long by Jimmy Austin, a former member of the Yankees. Paullette was with the Giants at one time, and McGraw used him as a utility player. If Paullette fails to make good Jones will have to fall back on Austin again.

An interesting story is told by a St. Louis scribe to the effect that when Harry Bailie was pulling his retirement stuff last summer and John McGraw was seeking his services, McGraw offered the Cardinals Ferd Schupp and $5,000. Miller Huggins turned it down, and McGraw then made a straight cash payment for $25,000. At the time Schupp didn't look to be worth 50 cents, but the information from McGraw that he was on the ragged edge of a job set him going and he finished about the best pitcher in the National League.

Life with Battling Nelson is just one continuous round of beauty parlors and prize rings. Bat no sooner acquires beauty than he sacrifices it on the altar of pugilism, and then the business of revamping features to Adonis-like proportions is again the order of the day.

Chief Meyers will have to stand a big cut this year or leave the Dodge flat. The Indian's contract with the Giants, which was signed during a Federal league war, was taken over by the Brooklyn club a year ago. It expired last fall, and Ebbetts lopped off $2,700 in the new contract that Meyers was asked to sign. Meyers received $2,700 as his share of the world's series with the Red Sox, so that he will be out that much if he accepts Ebbetts' offer. The Chief has lost much of his old skill and the Brooklyn club is ready to spend $2,700 or perhaps more for another catcher to fill his shoes.

A new kind of cigarette enjoyment

Up to lately, smokers have been content if a cigarette tasted all right.

But this Chesterfield Cigarette, besides pleasing the taste, does a new and important thing for smokers—

Chesterfields let you know you are smoking—they "SATISFY"! And yet, they're mild!

The blend does it—it's the new proportioning of high-quality tobaccos. Such costly Imported and Domestic tobaccos have never yet been blended in any cigarette at anywhere near the price. And the blend can't be copied.

It takes the cigarette itself to prove all this. So try Chesterfields. Today.

ELECTION RESULTS
ALMOST IMMEDIATE WITH THIS SCHEME

New York, March 8.—Indications that one of the greatest obstacles to the prompt announcement of election results, such as handicapped by the action of the electoral college, may be removed before another presidential year, are reflected in the action of the Iowa legislature in the following example set by Kansas, in the creation of what is called "A Double Election Board."

The board, which is to be composed of Virginia newspapers as one which will be appreciated by the general public to a greater extent than is the case with the present encumbrances which surround balloting. They declare that the success of the board will be the success of the state, and that it would attract attention in other states as a possible relief from such uncertainty as the result of the election for several days after the last election.

Kansas, considering its difference in time as compared with the eastern states, is the first of all states to Miss Edith Goode is chairman of the hospitality committee of the Congressional Union, and it is her particular task to find accommodations for the thousand suffragists who are expected in Washington for the inauguration. She has evolved the bright idea of converting garages into dormitories.

What little opposition was met with in West Virginia in suggesting adoption of the Kansas method was to the effect that the double election board involved additional expense, but in the argument of the author of the bill it is as inexpensive to work two sets of men one day as it is to work one set of men for two days.

The patterns, for the most part, are modest colorings---but for the man who likes a little "snap", there are plenty of "lively" patterns with green predominating.

A Word About Prices

Owing to the increased cost of woolsens and labor, we find it necessary to temporarily discontinue the "No More, No Less" portion of our advertising slogan, until conditions again become normal. We still have hundreds of patterns we can and will make up for $15.00—but some goods have advanced so much that we are unable to furnish them at the old price of "$15, no more, no less."
